

It Wasn't the Moon

A picture book about a brave newborn sea turtle facing danger on the Florida coast. A story of courage and determination, this book is for nature lovers and anyone who has ever followed a dream.

by Rosemary Lynn

Book Details:

ISBN: 979-8-9910517-8-1

8.5 x 8.5, 32 pages, Hardcover

Retail: $20.99

Publish Date: Nov. 2026

Publisher: Roaming Rosie Press

Categories:

- JUVENILE FICTION / Animals / Turtles & Tortoises (JUV002240)
- JUVENILE FICTION / Science & Nature / Environment (JUV029010)
- JUVENILE FICTION / Places / United States (JUV030060)

Target Age Range:

3- to 7-year-olds

Hooks:

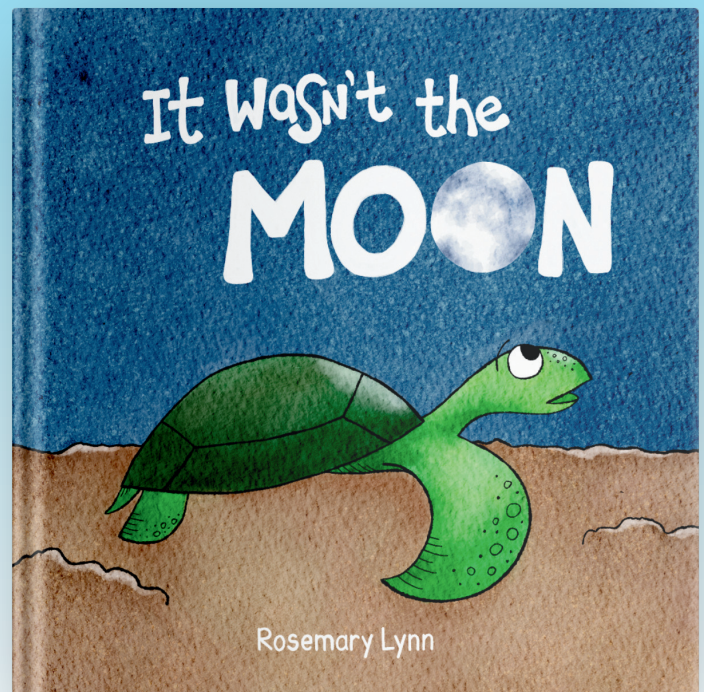

Social Emotional Learning (SEL)

Promotes Environmentalism

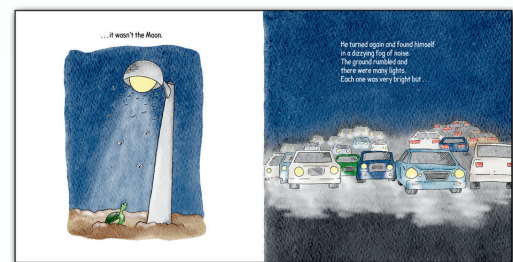

Watercolor Illustrations

Teaches Resilience

Florida Setting

Toby has just hatched alone and the Moon that would guide him to the safety of the ocean has disappeared. He must find the courage to navigate the dangers of light pollution and predators because giving up means being lost forever.

Author and illustrator Rosemary Lynn (she/they) is a storyteller who creates books filled with magic and mischief. They are a nonbinary, neurodivergent, and disabled bibliophile whose favorite former jobs were in bookstores and libraries. They live in Florida, think sprinkles deserve their own food group, and believes everyone has a story worth sharing.

Contact for book orders & author appearances:

RosemaryLynnBooks.com • RosemaryLynnBooks@gmail.com

    @RosemaryLynnBooks